DAILY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL

C. C. POWNING, Editor and Proprietor

HON. T. J. CLUNIE.

A Utah Tribune to the California Congressman.

The Salt Lake Tribune says:

It will be remembered that Hon. T. J. Clunie, Democratic Congressman from California, was the only Democrat that voted for the tariff on lead. He talked very frankly about it. He charged the Republicans with being inconsistent, at least so many as were opposing the tariff on lead, as he declared that every one of them was ready to hold the tariff on any manufacturing establishment in the East, and while he himself did not believe in a high protective tariff, he thought to be consistent it would be an outrage to throw the tariff off from lead and make a direct hardship on the miners of the West, while there was no talk about throwing it off from manufacturing lead, which is being controlled by a millionaire trust in the East.

By the way, this T. J. Clunie is a character and has a history. He is one of the very brightest men in Congress, and his record is one that ought to fill with hope every poor and striving boy. He was a new boy in Sacramento 25 years ago. He was an irresistible and invincible worker. He sold his newspapers by day, attended night schools, and when he got to be thirteen or fourteen years of age he begged permission of the lawyers to let him study law in their offices at such odd hours as he could spare from his duties. When he got to be eighteen years of age, one day the Speaker, Hon. C. T. Bayland, of the Assembly of California, called a fellow member to the chair, went down on the floor and explained to the House that he had a motion to make, which he believed would meet with the hearty approval of every member of the body, which was that the newsboy T. J. Clunie be declared of legal age and that he be admitted to practice law in all the courts of California. The resolution was passed without a dissenting vote and the newsboy went to work in his new field. When he reached the age of twenty-one he had made $20,000 in his profession, and ever since he has been traveling the up-grade, and all the opportunities of the Republic are before him. He is a very bright and level-headed man. He is exceedingly liked in Washington as he is in California, and from all accounts he deserves to be liked. He was the one member of the Public Building Committee who insisted upon putting the appropriation for the public building in Salt Lake at $500,000, and would never reduce the amount by one penny. He is an alert, active, gifted, handsome man, and has such a bearing as Macbeth had when in his heart he thought, "The greatest is behind." He is a living example of the fact that the American people are not retrograding, and an object lesson of the fact that the only limit to what an American boy can accomplish is the limit of his own capabilities. He is serving California with all his ability, at the same time he has placed Utah and all this Great Basin under marked and direct obligation to him.

Justice Field Sails for Europe.

Justice Stephen J. Field of the United States Supreme Court and Mrs. Field have sailed for Antwerp, where they will spend the Summer. This is the first time in many years that Justice Field has not spent the Summer in circuit on the Pacific Coast. It is reported that his nervous system has been shattered since the attack made on him by Sarah Althea.

Senator Stewart believes that Vandever has forsaken him and his irrigation bill and "gone over to the Powell crowd."

In regard to this General Vandever said: "I simply introduced Powell's bill as Chairman of the Irrigation Committee, the same as I did Senator Stewart's bill and several others. I am inclined to agree with Senator Stewart that the irrigation work should be performed under the Department of Agriculture, but some points in Senator Stewart's bill would make the irrigation work impracticable."

The House Irrigation Committee will soon be ready to report of its own accord.

General Passenger Agent T. H. Goodman, of the Southern Pacific Company, has prepared a statement showing that the Southern Pacific had 18,082 more overland passengers in January, February, March and April last year than it had during the first four months of this year. This shows the people are going up to the Northwest via the Union and Northern Pacific roads.

There is said to be a lot of political hall getting ready to bubble in Washoe county. Carson Appeal.

Look out that it don't fly out over both Comby and Storey.

The American people can rely upon it that the Republican party will enact such laws as will insure the best government the world has ever known. There are no flies on the present Republican Congress.

The present Republican Administration is keeping faith with the people and the tenets of the Republican platform.

The silver fight is red hot in Congress. It will be either free coinage or some measure practically the same.

This Republican Administration is making it very warm for the Celestials. The Chinese Must Go.

The Republican party is the grandest political organization that ever had an existence.

President Harrison will sign any silver bill passed by Congress.

The white metal is getting on top.

Free coinage is near at hand.

Minister Lincoln is much improved in health and spirits. The loss of his son pulled him down greatly, but he is now recovering his ordinary demeanor and transacting business in his usual way.

SILVER TAKES THE CAKE.

GREAT EXCITEMENT AMONG THE FOREIGN MISSIONARY ELEMENT IN JAPAN.

A Horrible Accident—Railroad Wreck—An Insane Deed—General News.

Practically Free Coinage.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—In the House Lacey, of Iowa, spoke in favor of the Silver bill, saying it was practically a free coinage bill.

Walker, of Massachusetts, spoke against free coinage. He said more money meant more misery. The bill was purely political.

Blount, of Georgia, said to increase the volume of the currency would benefit every interest of the country. He said the Treasury bill was a Wall street measure, and he also criticized the caucus bill. He advocated free coinage.

Bland said the gag-law had been placed on the minority to pass a bill through the House the effect of which was to demoralize silver. Silver was being murdered in the House of its friends. The Government must either issue fiat money or give unlimited use to gold and silver.

Kerr, of Iowa, spoke on the bill and said it was a long step in the right direction.

Townsend, of Colorado, said the only perfect remedy was the unlimited coinage of silver.

Dorsey, of Nebraska, said if Secretary Windom had bought the maximum of silver allowed by law there would be no need of this discussion.

The House then took a recess until 8 o'clock.

Senator Plumb on Silver.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—In the Senate Plumb said he believed it was all but the unanimous opinion of the people that a very considerable increase in the volume of currency was necessary. The Senator from New York, Hisscock, had yesterday described the great wealth and prosperity of the country, but if the picture was true why was it the Senator and his committee, the Finance Committee, were piling up protective duties. His (Plumb's) idea was that not only should the "sanctity" of the national bank circulation be made up, but there ought to be added to that at least as much as would result from the free coinage of silver. Plumb went on to speak of the Silver bill in connection with the question of protection. The Senate was appealed to yesterday by the Senator from New York (Hisscock) against the bill in the sacred name of Protection. Silver was an American product. He would like to ask the Senator from New York, who was so anxious about foreign commerce, what he intended to do with the Tariff bill which would prevent the United States from having any foreign commerce?

The Silver bill was then laid aside.

A message from the President relating to landing an armed force from the revenue cutter at Cedar Keys was read and referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Adjourned.

Excitement Among the Foreign Element in Japan.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—An Associated Press correspondent writing from Yokohama, says: "Some uneasiness prevails among foreigners in the Japanese capital, owing to developments which have followed the murder of the Canadian missionary, the Rev. T. A. Large. The excitement occasioned by the news of the murder had just died away when one of the best known foreigners in the city found himself a victim of circumstances, which compelled his departure, and following close upon that another missionary was set upon by a crowd of students and seriously cut by knives. May 6, Rev. James Summers, proprietor of the English school in Tokio, was driving in one of the principal thoroughfares with his wife, when the carriage of the Dowager Empress approached with a cavalry escort. Summers resigned his horse in to the side of the street and halted. As the carriage approached he took off his hat, replacing it as soon as the carriage passed. One of the escort pointed his lance at the hat and by accident struck Mr. Summers a severe blow on the head. The soldier was arrested and court-martialed. The native press immediately took up the matter and much feeling against foreigners was manifested by the rough student element. They called repeatedly at Summers' school and so alarmed him that he left the school in the hands of the police and went to England leaving his family in the care of friends. Last month the Japanese students of the Presbyterian school played a game of baseball with the students of another school. While the game was in progress an American missionary, Rev. W. Imbrey, of New Jersey, teacher in the Presbyterian school, stepped over a low hedge into the field. He was set upon by the native students and beaten about the head and body, and sustained serious injuries and knife cuts. No cause was given for the attack.

Shows the ROYAL to be a cream of tartar baking powder, superior to all others in strength and leavening power.

Seattle Celebrates.

Special to the Journal.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 7.—The first anniversary of the great fire of June 6th, 1889, which destroyed the entire business portion of the city, was celebrated in this city to-night. Many large stores and buildings were thrown open to the public during the day. Toklas, Singeman & Co., whose store was closed by fire at twenty minutes past three o'clock on June 6, 1889, reopened to-day at exactly the same hour, United States Judge C. H. Hanford making the formal opening. Other houses opened in the same manner. The Chamber of Commerce gave a banquet. Fireworks were set off across the harbor. At West Seattle a salute of one hundred guns was fired.

A Horrible Death.

Special to the Journal.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 7.—An Intelligence special from Spokane says James Pike, of the firm of Mann & Pike, loggers on the Skykomish river was killed there this afternoon. While running the logs down a steep chute one became fastened. Pike climbed into the chute to start it and just then another log came down, striking him, and cutting his body in two. A part of his hip bone was afterwards found sticking in the log. Small particles of flesh and blood and bones were scattered in every direction. The trunk and feet were all that could be found for interment.

A National Silver Convention Possible.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The National Executive Silver Committee to-day adopted resolutions to the effect that in case a satisfactory measure for the full restoration of silver to its former place as a money metal be not enacted, it will call a National Silver Convention, in which the Farmers' Alliance and all other industrial organizations will be invited to join with the metallists everywhere, with a view to sinking politics, and making the silver question the controlling issue in future campaigns.

Terrible Thunder Storms Throughout New York.

Special to the Journal.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The terrible thunder storms of last evening lasted throughout the night and till long after daybreak. They seemed to have been widespread. From all parts of the compass and from hundreds of miles away came stories of floods and havoc by lightning and high winds. Several lives were lost in and about the city. Several buildings were struck and burned, houses were unroofed and fences and trees were laid prostrate.

Henry Irving Visiting Patti.

Special to the Journal.

LONDON, June 6.—Henry Irving to-day went to Wales as the guest of Madame Adeline Patti, at Craig-y-Nos Castle. During his visit he will inaugurate the new private theater which she has built on the grounds by appearing in a piece in which the Diva, for once quitting opera will play the part of the heroine. ## Stage Robbery.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The Chronicle's Ukiah special says the north-bound stage from Ukiah was robbed to-day at 2:30 p. m., three miles out of town, by a lone highwayman. It is reported that the robber secured $1,600 from Wells, Fargo & Company's box.

RAGPICKERS OF PARIS.

MRS. FRANK LESLIE WRITES OF THE CHIFFONNIERS.

Some Astonishing Facts About These Strange Scavengers of the Streets of the Great French Capital—Their Organization and Their Work.

M. Rouff, a dealer in diamonds, lost a fine, large pearl, weighing 136 grains, and valued at $8,000. He immediately put posters up on all the walls of Paris offering a handsome reward for its recovery. Several weeks elapsed, when a poor woman called on the commissary of police in the Rue Montmartre and handed the lost pearl to that official. Her name was Gautier. She was a chiffonniere, or female ragpicker, by trade, and had found the pearl in a heap of rubbish in the Rue Lafayette. She lived in a small wooden shanty in the Rue du Ruiseau, a poorly tenanted street belonging to a quarter known as Les Grandes Carrières, so named from the "large quarries" on the northern slopes of Montmartre, where the city formerly got much of its fine limestone for building.

The new law that forbids housekeepers placing their rubbish in the streets over night has been a blow to the corporation to which this poor, honest woman belongs. Some compensation has, it is true, been offered them by the tolerance of the police; who close their eyes to the infringement of the regulations in the narrow streets which are lined with shops and warehouses. They have each their own concierge, who permits them to forage at daybreak among the rubbish brought down by the servants from upstairs.

They have a longer day's work now. Formerly they started out at 10 at night, and at 4 or 5 in the morning, when the carts made their rounds, they had disappeared from the streets. Now they must remain until the scavengers appear on the scene, or at least until the boxes of rubbish have been emptied into the common bin placed on the edge of the curb by each concierge.

They have the work of sorting to do when they get back from their early morning task of collecting the refuse. Some sell it to a boss or trier (sorter), as he is called, who stays at home and does nothing else. He sits in his room like a gentleman, and there quietly assembles, examines and separates the different articles picked up by his work people. He then sells the material to buyers of various sorts.

The business is anything but a lucrative one. Parisians, however, throw away every year more than 300,000 tons of stuff, which the ragpickers collect and sell for upward of 25,000,000 francs, or nearly $5,000,000. The daily returns amount in all to more than 70,000 francs ($14,000), but there are 40,000 men and women to share the sum between them, so that each gets an average of 1 franc 75 centimes, or less than 25 cents. Two hundred pounds of waste paper cannot be sold for more than a couple of francs, woolen rags are only worth 5 cents a pound, cotton 3 cents, and bones at best fetch 1 franc 85 centimes, or 37 cents, per hundred weight.

A man working steadily all night—for they still ply their trade on a small scale, despite the edict of the prefect—may earn, if he has a fair amount of good fortune, from forty to sixty cents, but not more. A silver spoon does occasionally turn up in the rubbish, but a pearl of purest orient hue—well, so to speak, never. Besides, every member of the corporation of ragpickers is bound under severe penalties to deposit any valuable he may find at the nearest police office. Each has a card or ticket with a number inscribed, and a number corresponding with that on the card is fastened to the bottle or basket. Ragpickers, moreover, have always been noted for their industry and honesty.

The "new law" I have alluded to was a decree enacted by M. Poubelle, prefect of the Seine, requiring every concierge to provide a box for the rubbish of the tenants, and to have it ready for the dust carts on their morning rounds. It came into force Jan. 15, 1884. The evident effect, if not the object, of this regulation was to check the chiffonniere's occupation, and to give the dust contractor a monopoly of the refuse. On sanitary grounds the prefect may have been right, but policy required moderation even in a question where the health of so large a city as Paris is concerned. The fact of suddenly reducing so large a crowd of honest servants to downright beggary was a mistake.

Public opinion, which in France, as in other countries of a similar high degree of civilization, is the supreme ruler, spoke up in favor of the ragpickers and against that minor sovereign known as the prefect of the Seine. Many deputies also humanely joined in the protest, so that the now immortal M. Poubelle was constrained to offer partial excuses for his action in the matter, and promised that the utmost tolerance should be exercised by the authorities in behalf of this particular and—as he admitted—"most honorable" industry. The ragpickers were in future to be allowed to turn out the new dust boxes, so as to be able to rake over the contents.

I will conclude this article about ragpickers by relating the story of a poor woman, Mme. Vauard, who arrived at competency by collecting orange peel, and thereby not only helped herself, but gave occupation to others. She became a rich person, a great patroness of art and a regular habitue of the opera. Her husband was in business as a distiller of spirits and essences, such as are used by perfumers and dealers in liquors. She gave him as much assistance as she could. He, however, died, whereupon she tried for some time to carry on the distillery alone, but without success.

Talking over matters one day with the keeper of a restaurant where she used to take her dinner, she was much struck with a remark that he made, to the effect that there was a fortune to be realized by some clever person in the orange and lemon peel which was daily thrown away by the garçons of the cafes.

She took the hint and pondered over it. The next thing she did was to sell her stock in trade, and become a sort of amateur chiffonniere, with this difference—that the object of her quest was orange and lemon peel only. She struck up business relations with the limonadiers and the various waiters who, well, you know how men and women were glad to help a young and, as she was then, good looking woman. They all, in fact, watched her venture in this new line with considerable interest.

She had a tiresome task at first, but soon as she got to be known matters went on more smoothly. The peel idea proved a success. In fact, she prospered so rapidly that she was ere long able to employ other hands to do the dirty work of collecting the material from the streets, as also from the theatres, for the sweaters of which she contracted.

She prosided herself over some thirty young women in her orange and lemon peel warehouse, all of whom were busily occupied in cleaning, pressing and packing the peel as it arrived, an operation which she christened by the word "zester." Vast quantities of zests were daily sent away to all parts of France and abroad to form the basis of Dutch curacao, orangeade, citronade and many kinds of light drinks and aperitifs which are met with over the continent. She has now retired from business, and enjoys the hard earned fruits of her former labor.

BREVITIES.

Yesterday was a hot day.
Second street will soon be a daisy.
R. F. Pixley is down from Virginia.
Bob Cozens was down from Verdi yesterday.
J. M. Sanford came up from Churchill yesterday.
The third story of A. J. Clark's new brick looms up.
Commissioner Dave Wightman, of Churchill, is in town.
T. K. Stewart and wife returned from the Bay yesterday.
Mr. Jenkins, of Churchill county, brought in a lot of wool yesterday.
Get your sock ready, as the 4th of July Committee will be around to-day.
S. M. Wilson, San Francisco's leading lawyer, was a passenger for the East yesterday morning.
L. J. Cohn is very busy with his work on the census. He is doing it in a very thorough manner.
Geo. Stiles leaves for Webber Lake this morning to open the hotel at that place for the summer season.
Gen. J. T. Cutting and family, of San Francisco, were passengers for the East on yesterday morning's train.
Reno looks very handsome at this season. It is by all odds the prettiest town of its size on the Pacific Coast.
A. Nelson's new store next to John Sunderland's clothing department will be ready for occupancy about the 20th inst.
T. A. Stephens, who formerly practiced law in Virginia City has been elected District Attorney of Multnomah county, Oregon, in which county the city of Portland is located.
There is quite a building boom in Truckee, more houses and improvements being in process of construction than at any time in the history of the town, if we except the rebuilding which occurs immediately after the periodic fires.
The statement in yesterday morning's JOURNAL that the cement sidewalk to be put down by the First National Bank, would be the first of the kind in the town, was a mistake as J. V. Borden put a cement walk down for Mrs. Morgan, in the Western Addition, last week.

"Paul Kaurar" Finely Presented.
The Virginia Chronicle, of last evening, says:
"Paul Kaurar" is without question the most thrilling drama on the modern stage, and as presented by the Haworth Company at the Opera House last evening was invested with absorbing interest by the realistic manner in which the stirring, bloody scenes in the French capital during the reign of Robespierre, are reproduced. Joseph Haworth's presentation of the hero of the play was a finished piece of dramatic work as was also that of Miss Lizzie Rochelle in the role of Diane. The supporting cast was excellent and the unanimous verdict of the audience is that Mr. Haworth is entitled to the complimentary mention made of him by press critics.

The Silver Question.
Sol. Levy, of F. Levy & Bro., says if all who are indebted to that firm will pay up in silver, he will be as thankful as if paid in brand new gold.

The Appeal learns that a British syndicate have arranged to purchase over a million worth of lands of the Southern Pacific R. R. Co., in this State.—Carson Appeal.

"PAUL KAURAR."

A Very Strong Play Full of Sensation, Reasonably Free from Absurd Exaggeration and Extremely Interesting.

The Enterprise says of the performance we may expect to-night:

"Paul Kaurar" opens rather tamely for a few lines, and the voice of Mr. Haworth as the French patriot is intoned too much after the style of a class meeting exhorter to suit the requirement of commonplace dialogue. The action, however, soon begins, and as soon as the situation becomes critical the voice that at first seemed too heavily strained for the sentiment finds proper scope for its strength and force, and the audience, instead of forming judgment upon the merits of the actors, is immersed in the interest of the play. The tableau representing Kaurar's dream at the close of the first act is delightfully horrible, and the shout of terror and grief uttered between sleep and waking by Paul tells the whole story of the dreadful vision.

The play is often gruesome but never repulsive, notwithstanding the thrill of expectant shock with which it affects an audience. Relieved occasionally by passages somewhat amusing it sustains the interest at the point of sensation to the last and is worth the efforts of Mr. Haworth. Miss Rochelle as the heroine is an excellent support. Her forcible representation of the conflict between love of parent and husband is carefully guarded against the too common fault of actresses of permitting unnecessary pathos to become melodramatic lamentation. She makes no mistakes in her interpretation of the delicate shades of emotion that fit between outbreaks of anger and the resignation of hopelessness. With voice and gesture under excellent training her Diane De Beaumont is a worthy companion to the strong and tender Paul Kaurar of Haworth.

Con. Cal. & Va. May Bullion Yield—The Potasi Winze.

Of the mining situation on the Comstock the Virginia Chronicle, of last evening, says:

Con. Cal. & Va. bullion shipments to date on May account aggregated $138,717 39 with the cleanup shipment for that month yet to be made, which will probably swell the total yield of May to above $230,000. This is a much better showing than was anticipated, in view of the fact that one shipment were seriously curtailed throughout that month on account of the high stage of water in the Carson river preventing the stamp mills from being in constant operation.

Sinking the Potasi winze below the 930 level will probably be resumed to-morrow, as the hoist engine is now in position at the winze top. The bottom of the winze is now down 134 feet on the incline below the 930 level and will reach a vertical depth of 100 feet in sinking, about 20 feet further, which will bring it down to the 1330 level. As soon as the winze attains a vertical depth of 100 feet below the 930 level a station will be cut out and the ore followed by north and south lateral drifts. Sinking the winze below the 1030 level will be continued after drifting begins on the vein.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-awt-ly

The Truckee Republican has this: Frank G. Newlands is expected to return from Washington this week, and the people of Reno are anticipating that he will do grand things for them this year, in the way of securing further water privileges, and perfecting the plans made last fall for the storage of adequate water for all the wants of the farmers.

Go to Lange & Schmitt for garden hose, garden tools, and agate ware. Largest stock in the city.

Paint your house with the best mixed paints. Sold by Lange & Schmitt.

The Donner Money.

The Truckee Republican says: A. W. Chellis, by means of his electric mineral ball, has located the precise spot. It is supposed that $10,000 was buried there by Capt. Donner, and as soon as the water subsides from the valley Mr. Chellis proposes to ascertain if there is any truth in the story.

The Truckee Republican says: Col. A. W. Von Schmidt's scheme for taking the waters of Tahoe to San Francisco, seems to bid fair to be successful, the protests of our Reno friends to the contrary notwithstanding.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced."

Primary Election

—Of the People on—
SATURDAY, AUGUST 16, 1890.For the purpose of electing delegates to the said
State Convention the Primary Election to be conducted in compliance with the laws of the State and the instructions of this Committee.The following test will be required of each and every voter at the said Primary Elections
"I am a citizen of the State and will support the nominees of the Republican party."The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:Resolved, That this committee reaffirms the State and National Republican platform of 1888, including the declaration that "the Republican party is in favor of a sound money, both gold and silver as money" and that it "condemns all efforts to monopolize silver."Resolved, That the persistent neglect of Secretary Whitman to increase the volume of silver to the maximum of four million dollars per month, coupled with his attempt to influence Congressional legislation so as to perpetuate silver demonetization, is a shameful violation of the silver plank of the National Republican platform, and at the same time a violation of the trust reposed in him by the people of the State, and an act of treason against the rights and interests of the miners, farmers and workers of the land, and an act of party perjury that should call for his retirement from the councils of an Administration which is pledged to help and not to hinder the demonetiza-tion of silver.Resolved, That the Republican party of this State is in favor of free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver; that it holds to this principle as a test of party faith, and that it will support any legislation that would call for his retirement from the councils of an Administration which is pledged to help and not to hinder the demonetiza-
